Who We Are

With the shared vision of being entirely thorough and comprehensive in the provision of Family Law representation across South East Asia and Australasia, the practitioners of Sayer Jones and Gloria James-Civetta & Co (GJC) share an intricacy for detail in the provision of family law services. The alliance between the two firms balances this without compromising cost-efficiency.

Ben Sayer

In addition to maintaining a comprehensive Family Law practice on parenting and property matters, Ben has established himself as one of Australia's primary voices on all aspects of domestic and international surrogacy, fertility and adoption law.

Our key objective is to provide clients with comprehensive and complete advice on all Family Law; parentage; and matrimonial matters. Sayer Jones and GJC share a particular aim of focussing on our strategies to secure clients the best possible outcome.

In doing so, we endeavour to provide clients with clarity on vision at each step of the Family Law process. This objective is the cornerstone of our international alliance.

What We Do

Clients are becoming more sophisticated in their search for Family Law legal services and have realistic expectations about transparency and accountability. We encourage this and understand the benefits we can create for clients by having innovative regard for their best interests

Our International Alliance strives for excellence in terms of the manner in which we act for clients across our region and beyond; how we represent them; and by virtue of the outcomes we obtain for them. Our common trait is being critical in all aspects of our thinking.

How We Do It

Our relationships with our respective clients is fundamental to our ability to provide them with a high-level service, empathy and understanding. Providing these with immediate cross-border access and response is an example of this.

Gloria James-Civetta

Gloria has over 23 years' experience in representing local and cross-border clients. Gloria is known for her ability to negotiate and manage high conflict personalities in intense and volatile situations. She is a Mediator, Collaborative Practice Lawyer and Divorce Coach.

Will Jones

Having developed his technical abilities in international commercial practice, Will is particularly strong on advising Family Law clients on the division of relationship asset pools that are complex in their structure. This includes those with cross-border components.
